

College Life - Mike's Thursday

8:45

Get up with the alarm today. Showertime!

8:59

Get dressed. I'm extra hungry today, so I eat my roommate's Pop-Tarts before he wakes up.

9:13

Mike and Mike in the Morning (Have you caught on that I love ESPN?) and morning internet.

9:58

Bus to campus.

10:22

Read the paper until Astronomy starts.

10:30

Astronomy.

11:45

Astronomy ends. I realize that I forgot to pack my lunch, and grab another sandwich at the library. I should have remembered, it gets expensive eating on campus like this all the time.

12:20

Talk to friends in a different chemistry lab in the Physical Science building lobby.

12:30

Chemistry lab starts. I'm done with my experiments and data, and just spend today doing calculations and finishing the lab report.

2:20

Catch the bus home.

2:45

Naptime! For some reason, I'm really tired today.

3:30

Wake up and watch TV.

5:45

Videogames with the roommates. It's been a daily tradition ever since we were freshman.

7:00

Go to Little Caesar's for some cheap pizza.

7:10

Eat the cheap pizza while watching Transformers on TV.

8:00

Homework time. I answer pre-class questions for physics, and try to read some Analytical chemistry, but find I'm too distracted by the Baylor/Wake Forest football game on TV.

10:45

Read for fun.

12:30

Bedtime. I should have gone to bed earlier, but my book was really interesting.
